Our mission...

The International Chamber of Commerce - ICC was founded in 1919 in Paris. Today, ICC represents thousands of companies and associations in more than 120 countries.

prestige	Through the National Committees of ICC, businessmen transmit their interests, positions and ideas to high official representatives, institutions and governments of all countries, including the UN, EU, WTO, OECD and G20, where ICC has been granted the highest level consultative status. Being an ICC member is a question of prestige. The ICC Czech Republic has been offering its services for more than 12 years.
principles	ICC creates rules and principles for the international trade. Although these rules have remained voluntary, they are fully respected and used in everyday business, thus have become one of the most important pillars of international trade.
partnership	ICC provides a large portfolio of services fundamental for foreign trade, such as educational and advisory services, as well as creating opportunities for establishing partnership with foreign business partners.
